

Vintage Scuba Diver Release of Liability

Facility

I _____ have been schooled in the Hazards of diving with Vintage
(Print Name)
Gear. We use the terms Double Hose Regulator, Horse Collar, and Reserve Valve with Reserve Pull Handle. These are just a few items. I know that when diving and clearing the Double Hose you must clear it differently.

_____ I understand these items and the appropriate safeguards that must be taken, such as a designated safety diver in the water with me. I will be diving with a buddy at all times. I understand there are emergency procedures and will be diving with a Safety Diver.

_____ I understand that there are failures in vintage gear. I have had my gear serviced within the last year. My log book with my Vintage dives, have been made available to the Dive Supervisor of this dive operation. Current diving advances were not available when this gear was made. _____ I have dove with this Vintage Gear before and have full knowledge of the procedures of using it. It does vary from current agency teachings.

_____ I'm a current certified diver with a recognized agency in the World. I have a Certification card and have shown it to this Dive Destination and Supervisor.

_____ I hereby voluntarily release, discharge, waive, and relinquish the right to sue this Dive Facility _____ and their respective employees, agents and assigns for personal injuries or wrongful death that may occur during the forthcoming dive activity. Wherever or however such may occur as a result of inherit risks associated with Vintage Gear and Diving as a result of negligence, mechanical or any other causes.
